President's Message

Dear Member,

A union collective agreement is like a Charter of Rights. It explains, protects and guarantees your rights on the job. It stipulates the wages you must be paid, the benefits you must receive. It puts down on paper your right to dignity and respect at work.

It is important that you know your rights, the wages and benefits you are entitled to receive. Please take the time to read through this agreement. If you have any questions about it, talk to a shop steward in your workplace or phone your full-time union representative. They are also the people to talk to if you feel the rights and benefits outlined in this document are not being provided to you.

Sincerely,

Jeff Traeger,
President UFCW Local 832

Definition of Anytime and Restricted Status

Each part time employee will declare their availability and status at the time of their hire and throughout the course of their employment at the allotted times provided below. "Anytime" is defined as being available to work on all days of the week and all hours of the day. "Restricted" is defined as being anything less than available "Anytime". There shall be no limit on the Employer's right to hire new "Anytime" or "Restricted" employees at any time.

The weekly schedule of hours shall be created by department within the store and shall be posted by Thursday at noon. Hours of work are scheduled according to availability, ability, qualifications and seniority with the understanding that all "Anytime" employees are scheduled in priority to "Restricted" employees.

The names of all "Anytime" employees within a department appear at the top of the schedule in order of seniority. "Anytime" employee names are followed by the names of all "Restricted" employees in order of seniority. In accordance with this scheduling system the most junior "Anytime" employee must receive as many or more hours than the most senior "Restricted" employee.

In assigning hours amongst "Anytime" employees no junior employee shall be scheduled more hours during a week than a senior employee provided that the employees hold the same ability and qualifications. A junior employee may be scheduled more hours during a week than a senior employee in the event that the junior employee possesses abilities and qualifications that the senior employee does not have.

A junior employee may be scheduled more hours during a week than a senior employee as a result of the junior employee working some shifts which are in whole or in part outside of the senior employee's availability or in the event that the junior employee possesses abilities and qualifications that the senior employee does not have.

2.04 The Employer shall determine the number and length of shifts and employees shall be assigned to those shifts at the Employer's discretion. The specific number of weekly hours assigned to employees is at the discretion of the Employer subject to the above two paragraphs and to any applicable guarantees.

2.05 Any employee may be called in for any shift provided that this does not directly result in an employee receiving more total weekly hours than other employees that were scheduled who appear above them on the posted weekly schedule of hours.

In addition any employee may be called in for any shift which employees above them on the schedule are not available for or are not qualified or able to perform the work regardless of the impact on total weekly hours.

Shift extensions of up to three (3) hours due to unforeseen circumstances will not result in a scheduling violation.

2.06 Declaration of Availability

Part-time employees shall declare their availability three (3) times per year and shall be required to work according to their Declaration of Availability:

- (1) the last Sunday in December
- (2) the first Sunday in June

- (1) the first Sunday in January
- (2) the last Sunday in June
- (3) the first Sunday in September

In addition to the above, Employees may increase their availability between November 15th and the end of the year.

The Employer may consider additional individual requests to change availability subject to business requirements as well as the current overall availability of the employees in the department.

Anytime employees may declare themselves unavailable for a period of up to six (6) consecutive hours and still be considered available anytime for scheduling purposes. The six (6) hour period must fall between 00:00 hrs Monday and 12:00 hrs Thursday and be in the same block of time each week. All employees exercising this option must do so at the time they declare their availability. The employer reserves the right to limit the number of six (6) hour consecutive hour blocks that may be declared during any particular time or day within a given department.

All restricted part-time employees must be available to work during at least two (2) six (6) hour blocks, on two (2) separate days, consistent with shifts in their department.

The Employer will make "Declaration of Availability" forms readily available to part-time employees. Employees who require a change in availability will submit, in person, a completed form to the Employer and the employee will be given a signed copy of the form at the time of submission. Provided the request is submitted Saturday by noon, the change will be reflected at the earliest, on the schedule posted by the following Thursday.

New employees shall be required to complete a "Declaration of Availability" form on or before their first day of work. An employee must not restrict themselves to the point that they are not available for normal scheduled shifts within the department.

Requested Day Off

Anytime employees may request a specific day off at least 72 hours prior to the posting of the work schedule. Employees can make one (1) such request per month. The granting of this day off will be subject to operational requirements and will not be unreasonably withheld.

Guarantee of Hours for Senior Anytime Employees

Senior Available Anytime employees may be eligible to receive a weekly guarantee of hours. Restricted employees shall not qualify to be scheduled under this section.

- (a) Hours worked or paid, including General Holiday shall be considered as hours worked for the purpose of satisfying the minimum guarantees set forth in the chart below.
